Dominic Power, Allen J. Scott : Cultural Industries and the Production of Culture (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cultural Industries and the Production of Culture (Routledge Studies in International Business and the World Economy):

Since the Second World War there has been considerable growth in the importance of non-manufacturing based forms of production to the performance of many Western economies. Many countries have seen increased contributions being made by industries such as the media, entertainment and artistic sectors. Gathering together a leading international, multi disciplinary team of researchers, this informative book presents cutting-edge perspectives on how these industries function, their place in the new economy and how they can be harnessed for urban and regional economic and social development.
