I Wish He Was Still With Us - We Need HimBy Truth SeekerGreat book. I just wish Gann was around to help us out with the stock market today. I think he's a good instructor. He tries to illustrate his meaning over and over again with plenty of examples. I think it's so interesting to read about the history of the stock market and the financial situation in the U. S. I know from other readings that his great secret was the use of astrology to help him predict the stock market. There's plenty of evidence of others who were successful in its use also. It's too bad so many people are so closed minded. Gann became a millionaire 50 times over because he wasn't. There's something to say for that. I wish everyone could read the last two pages of the book where he talks about Roosevelt's mistakes. It looks like Obama is trying to repeat the the same policies as Roosevelt even though they didn't work and only made things worse. Here is a quote to illustrate: "No one man or set of men is greater than all of the people of this country. The majority of the people voted to elect Roosevelt and did not know they were electing him to direct a lot of 'brain-trusters' to run the country. Congress has submitted to Roosevelt and permitted 'brain-trusters' to run things. The government is no different from any other business or individual who spends two or three times as much as it earns and may eventually go bankrupt. Government's interference with business and the government's heavy expenditures simply mean trouble ahead and a day of reckoning must come and the bill must be paid by the taxpayers.....If the policies that are now being pursued in Washington continue for another four years, this country will be ruined....." I wish I could quote the whole two pages to you, but it would be well worth your while to check Roosevelt's history as a president on Wikipedia. That was a revelation to me. I had always been told he was a great president, but now I know better. One does have to wonder why an administration would try to repeat failed policies if they really have the welfare of this country in mind. Roosevelt fooled my parents and my grandparents with promises of great retirement incomes from Social Security. You see what happened to that. Now we are asked to believe we will have great health care if we just turn over our lives to the Federal Government. Too bad so many people have to learn the hard way. Gann was not only a brilliant man, but he spent a lot of time in old age that he didn't have to spend trying to help others to learn about the stock market. I think the only reason he didn't tell people about the astrology was he didn't want to contend with the prejudices against it. 0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Still making money selling history? By Neville Leonard Just a history lesson. Selling information about past highs and lows, pages and pages of nothing usable. Old cliché; like "always use stop loss orders" Would only recommend to history buff.

When I wrote TRUTH OF THE STOCK TAPE in 1923, it was because there was a demand for a book of that kind. People needed the help that I could give them and the benefit of my experience and knowledge. In that book I gave the best I had and received my reward. People appreciated my efforts. They bought the book then and they are still buying it. They say it is a good book and more than worth the money. That is very gratifying to me. After the 1929 bull market culminated there was a demand for a new book to meet changed conditions under the so-called "New Era," so I wrote WALL STREET STOCK SELECTOR in the spring of 1930. I gave freely of my knowledge and the benefit of years of experience. This book helped others to protect their principal and make profits. People who read the book pronounced it one of the best. It is still selling, and again I have been rewarded. No man can learn all there is to know about forecasting the trend of stocks in 3, 5, 10, or 20 years, but if he is a deep student and hard worker, he learns more and knowledge comes easier after years of experience. I knew more about determining the trend of stocks in 1923 than I did in 1911. Seven more years of experience gave me more knowledge and enabled me to write the WALL STREET STOCK SELECTOR in 1930 and give my readers the benefit of my increased knowledge. Now, after five more years have elapsed, my experience and practical test of new rules have enabled me to learn more of value since 1930. The 1929-1932 panic and what has followed since, gave me valuable experience and I have gained more knowledge about detecting the right stocks to buy and sell. I cannot lose if I pass this knowledge on to those who will appreciate it.
